

The National Arts and Humanities Youth Program Awards: Application Orientation WEBINAR with NEH and IMLS

Does your museum or library have an outstanding after-school program that is transforming the lives of young people?

Is your organization setting the standard for out-of-school programs by incorporating humanities with youth development?

Register now for a webinar from the President's Committee on the Arts and the Humanities, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and Institute of Museum and Library Services.

The National Arts and Humanities Youth Program Award is the Nation's highest honor for out-of-school arts and humanities programs that celebrate the creativity of America's young people, particularly those from underserved communities. This award recognizes and supports excellence in programs that open new pathways to learning, self-discovery, and achievement.

Mark your calendar for our January 13 pre-application webinar to learn more about the 2016 application, eligibility criteria, and selection process. Join us and have your questions answered before the February 2 application deadline.
